CHANGE TAX LAW To Lay Cards on Table When Survey Ends

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The serious condition in which the treasury finds itself—with a billion dollar deficit at hand and a still greater one probably for next year—is being watched by no political group more closely than by the anti-prohibitionists.

They believe the situation is playing directly into their hands, and at the proper time they are planning to capitalize it to the utmost.

A material increase in federal taxes is conceded to be impending unless there is a marked and wholly unlooked for jump in federal revenues in the next eighteen months. No responsible politician in Washington believes a tax increase can be avoided. The expenses of running the federal government have been trimmed and pruned to the point where not much more along that line is possible. President Hoover has discovered this in his week-end conferences on the Rapidan. The alternative, then, is to find new sources of federal income.

WETS SEE OPENING

This is where the wets believe they come into the picture. They are going to contend, with increasing emphasis as time goes on, and as congress squares away to the problem of finding new taxation wells, that the least onerous and least painful tax would be an excise tax on beers, wines and spirits. They are going to point out that during the years just preceding the adoption of the 18th amendment the excise taxes on liquors poured into the federal treasury each year more than half a billion dollars, notwithstanding that two-thirds of the country was then dry.

Under present conditions, prominent wets contend, this tax which produced roughly a half a billion dollars before prohibition, could be trebled and made to produce three times the amount now, or a billion and half dollars annually. Repeal of prohibition and the imposition of a high excise tax, together with the present enormous tobacco tax, they argue, could be made to produce more than half the total federal budget each year, leaving income and corporate taxes at a nominal figure.

PUT MEN TO WORK

The anti-prohibitionists may be unduly optimistic but some of their most prominent and far-seeing leaders in Washington talk convincingly of these figures. They have already set their research experts to work on the statistics which they propose to set before congress at the proper time.

John E. Silbaugh, of Lancaster, attorney-at-law, who will deliver the principal address at Memorial Day services held Saturday morning, is a charter member of Fairfield post No. 11, American Legion. A member of the law firm, Silbaugh and Silbaugh, this speaker has gained much prominence for his oratory through central Ohio and promises to bring a stirring message.

He is a member of the Fairfield-co bar association and the Ohio state bar association. He attended Ohio Northern University at Ada and Ohio University at Athens. He received his L. L. B. degree in 1926.

RACE DRIVER, AIDE, KILLED

Racer Crashes Over Retaining Wall as Driver Makes Test To Qualify.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 26.—Joe Caccia, 31, crack driver from Bryn Mawr, Pa., and his mechanic, Clarence Grove, 23, of Haverford, Pa., were killed instantly when their Malley Special race car plunged over a retaining wall at Indianapolis motor speedway race track today.

The automobile then turned over imprisoning the two men. Their bodies were badly burned. Caccia was a veteran race driver who was said to have had a good chance at one of the high places in the famous 500 mile race which will be held here on Saturday.

The racing car, apparently out of control at a speed of nearly 100 miles an hour, plunged over the wall at the south turn, struck a tree and then caught fire.

The two men apparently were practicing this morning in preparation for their qualification trial this afternoon.

What caused the speeding car to get out of control may never be known.

A gasp of horror came from the crowd as the machine was seen to hurtle the embankment and as a cloud of black smoke spiraled from the wreckage.

Everyone made a rush to the scene. Among those who hurried to render aid were Tony Gulotta, Leon Duray, and other widely known drivers.

The spot where the car rolled to a blazing stop was almost in the back yard of a bungalow which is occupied by T. E. "Pop" Myers, vice president and general manager of the speedway.

CHICAGO NEWS PLANE FALLS, 4 ARE KILLED

"The Blue Streak" Goes

WRECK IS NEAR CITY All But Pilot Instantly Killed In Crash

CHICAGO, May 26.—Four men were killed today when the Bellanca airplane owned by The Chicago Daily News crashed 1,000 feet in a field two miles north of Wheaton and about two miles west of Ellyn, suburbs west of Chicago.

The dead are:
Shirley Short, chief pilot and staff pilot of The Daily News.

Richard K. Peck, co-pilot and former commercial pilot at the Elgin airport.

Lewis S. Rice, radio operator and technical man for The Daily News radio station WMAQ.

Robert U. Gormely, mechanic. All but Gormely were killed instantly. He with both legs amputated in the crash, died while being taken to the Wheaton hospital.

The plane called The Blue Streak was a specially designed sesqui-plane built by Bellanca. It was of the tandem motor type. Short had taken it out to conduct a load test under national aeronautical association records.

It had taken off at 9:10 a. m. from Curtis-Reynolds airport in an attempt to carry 2,000 kilograms around an official kilometer post.

The flight was to be an endurance test in an effort to break the planes recent record non stop flight, 1,500 miles to Brownsville, Texas.

The plane according to an eye witness side-slipped at 1,000 feet then went into a tail spin looped two or three times and finally plunged to earth with terrific speed. The wings buckled before it hit the ground, a witness said, so terrific was the crash that hardly a square yard of the ship was intact after the crash.

MOTHER KILLS TWO CHILDREN

Uses Chloroform and Watches Both Die; Attempts To Take Own Life.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—After chloroforming her two small children and watching them die, Mrs. Bernice Foley Saunders tried to end her life by hurling herself into the surf.

Officers found her as she staggered along the beach. "I've just killed my two babies," she moaned. Deliberately she told them she had held the two youngsters in their cribs pouring a deadly antiseptic into their mouths to kill the odor of the chloroform. She had been having financial troubles.

Robert Saunders and his sister, Patricia Lee, 8, may have had some premonition of their death, for yesterday afternoon they gave their toys "two rag dogs" away to their playmates—"for keeps."

SEE 'HIGHER-UP' IN GORDON DEATH

NEW YORK, May 26.—Arrest of a "higher up" was awaited today in the Vivian Gordon murder mystery.

While police refused to confirm the reports, it was strangely hinted that they hoped to arrest a wealthy man whom Miss Gordon was accused of blackmailing. Police, it was said, hoped to be able to prove that the man of wealth, angered at his "shakedown," had hired Samuel Greenberg and Harry Stein to kill her.

Greenberg and Stein, accused of choking the woman to death on February 25 and throwing her body into a park, were indicted yesterday for the crime.

Miller Blames Bombay Speech

COLUMBUS, O., May 26.—"An innocent little speech" he made in Bombay in March, 1930, about Ghandi's revolution was the "real reason" for the dismissal of Dr. Herbert A. Miller, professor of sociology, from the faculty of Ohio State University.

So declared Dr. Miller today while the university campus seethed in debate over the controversy and "left wing" members of the institution's faculty prepared to protest the dismissal.

Breaking his silence in an interview with International News Service, Dr. Miller charged that the action against him was "an infringement on the rights of free speech and an impeachment of the recognized principles of free speech."

The assistance he gave to a student campaign against compulsory military training, Dr. Miller asserted, was merely "the excuse" for his dismissal.

"The real reason," he declared, "was a true but trite speech I made at Bombay."

Dr. Miller assailed the entire

TO ERECT POLES

County commissioners Monday granted the Scioto Valley Railway and Power Co. the right, privilege and franchise to construct, operate and maintain poles, wires, anchorages and other appliances necessary to carry electric current beginning at the intersection of state route 188, at the Pickaway-Fairfield-co line, north to the S. Bloomfield-Royalton road and then west to the Circleville-Canal Winchester Road.

The resolution was adopted and signed by M. H. Dreisbach, J. W. Hay and E. W. Beatty of the county commissioners and Clifford M. White, county auditor, as clerk.

Actress Uses Shoe, Smashes Window Panes

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 26.—On a complaint signed by Ivan St. Johns, play broker and writer, police today were looking for Miss Jocelyn Lee, red-haired film actress. St. Johns charges her with disturbing the peace by kicking out 12 panes of glass in his dining room.

Judge Georgia Bullock issued the warrant, setting $100 bail. Luther Reed, film director, former husband of Jocelyn, who is staying at the St. Johns' home, told the prosecutor the trouble started over their children. He had gone to Miss Lee's Sunday to take the two for their weekly outing provided by their recent divorce decree and she insisted on going with them. This he refused to let her do. Later he said, she appeared at St. Johns where a number of guests were present.

"She took off her shipper and began smashing things," Reed said.

Traction Rails Take Toll

The abandoned traction lines have taken their toll!

For the past several months, in fact since the lines were abandoned last Oct. 1, they have been putting out fair warning that some day something was going to happen. Several accidents have been reported on N. Court-st. in only the past few weeks. Several cars have skidded in the rails and smashed against telegraph poles. But fortunately not with loss of life.

Then came Monday.

A father with his two children, and a neighbor boy, returning to their homes, the children to their mothers after being away for several days. What a happy reunion was in store. And then what happened?

Wet rails; an effort of the father to drive his car from them. A mighty swing of the car and a deafening crash. Three bodies lying in the middle of the road, those of the father and two boys.

Two of them moved, but the third, that of the smaller boy lay still, never to move again.

The father was hurt and so was the other boy. A still smaller child, a girl, was not thrown from the car, miraculously, and was not injured.

What a reunion the mother will have when her small family returns to her. Her darling boy, two years older than his little sister, dead. Her husband to live, forever knowing that he was the driver of the car in which his son met death. And the little sister, perhaps too small to really realize what the death of her brother means, being left without companion such as her brother surely was.

Certainly someone, or something, is to blame for the disaster.

It can't have been the driver of the truck with which the death car collided. The father, unaware of what would happen in the tracks, shouldn't be blamed; an officer following him said he was not traveling at a high rate of speed.

It was the unrepaired traction lines which have proven a menace to the city since the traction was abandoned nearly eight months ago. A squabble exists between city council and the traction company over liability in case of an accident of this sort. The traction officials, now, have an ordinance in their hands passed by the council last week putting liability, if there is any, in the hands of the traction company until CONTEMPORATED repairs are completed and approved.

The traction company has not yet approved the ordinance, at least, a copy has not been returned to the clerk of council. Whether the ordinance is approved or not, HOW SOON WILL THESE TRACKS BE REPAIRED, SO AS TO PREVENT THE TAKING OF ANOTHER, OR OTHER LIVES?

The talks and illustrations given by the two men were highly enjoyed by the club.

WEST VIRGINIA BOY HAS CRUSHED HEAD, THREE OTHERS HURT

Slippery, abandoned tracks direct cause of accident on N. Court-st Monday afternoon; Charles Cann, 11, dies instantly when thrown to pavement; father's car collides with heavy truck; injured treated at hospital; West Virginia party has been visiting in Detroit, was going home.

Unused traction rails were responsible for the death of an 11-year-old youth at 4:30 p. m. Monday when the Buick coupe, traveling south driven by Dr. Charles B. Cann, of Spring Hill, W. Va., skidded in the wet rails on N. Court-st. near Pleasant-st, then crashed head-on into the northbound Cussins & Fearn Co., Columbus, truck driven by O. H. Johnson, son, of Orient.

The dead youth was Charles Cann, Jr., son of the driver of the Buick, instantly killed. Death was caused by a crushed skull. The injured were; Dr. C. B. Cann, numerous cuts about the face and an injury to his right shoulder.

Paul Baker, 13, a neighbor boy of the Canns, several fractured ribs and a severe blow on the back of his head, the extent of which was not yet known;

Neola Cann, 9, daughter of the driver of the car and sister of the deceased youth, bruised right leg.

DEATH TAKES MRS. RICHEY

Well Known Local Woman
Succumbs After Six Weeks
Illness; Rites Thursday

Mrs. Minnie Bell Richey, aged 47, wife of Eugene E. Richey, died at her home, 207 Walnut-st., Monday at 2:30 p. m. of organic heart disease after an illness of six weeks.

Mrs. Richey was born a native of Missouri, being born April 25, 1884 the daughter of Emanuel and Susan Swoyer. She was married at White Plains, N. Y., to Eugene Richey on Dec. 12, 1911. She was a member of the Evangelical church.

Surviving are the husband; the following children: Virginia, Marie, Harry and Bert, all at home; one sister, Mrs. Sadie Lyle, this city, and one brother, Charles Swoyer, of Columbus.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2:30 p. m. at the Evangelical church with Rev. C. W. Ruhlman officiating, with burial in Forest cemetery by the Albaugh Co.

MORRISON RITES TO BE WEDNESDAY

Funeral services for William Barnett Morrison, aged 78, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. T. J. Chapman, near Barberton Saturday, will be held Wednesday at 3 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Isaac Crynsinger, 415 E. Franklin-st. with Rev. C. W. Ruhlman officiating. Burial will be in Forest cemetery by the Albaugh Co.

Apoplexy caused his death. Mr. Morrison was a native of Pickaway-co, being born here May 23, 1853, the son of William C. and Elizabeth Van Kirk Morrison. He was married to Annie Ward in Walnut-twp. by Rev. Lewis L. Peters, Jan. 17, 1875. His widow survives him with the following children: John V. Morrison, this city; Mrs. Isaac Crynsinger, E. Franklin-st., Barberton, this city; Mrs. C. A. Wolf, Columbus; Mrs. Ray Heffner, Groveport; George Morrison, Marshville, O.; and Mrs. T. J. Chapman, Barberton, at whose home he died. Twenty-three grandchildren also survive.

Richard Nickerson is home to spend the summer, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Nickerson, son of S. Court-st.

KILLED INSTANTLY
The force of the car threw the occupants except the little girl onto the pavement. The Cann boy was killed when his head crashed against the pavement. The child's father was thrown heavily and landing on his right shoulder he escaped being seriously hurt. The Baker boy landed on his side. The little Cann girl got out of the car, mobile and went to her father attempting to turn him over, just as Deputy Sheriff Miller Frazier arrived at the scene. He called the ambulance, after considerable trouble making connections.

The Cann boy was dead when Frazier knelt beside him. An attractive little child, the mother's side of his head was badly damaged. One little hand curled up. The deputy sheriff knelt to see how badly he was hurt.

The Cussins & Fearn truck, badly damaged about the front end, was forced to the curb on the right side of the street and to a yard when it struck a sapling. The Buick was wrecked badly and was taken to the Circleville Motor garage.

ENROUTE TO HOMES
The Canns were enroute from Detroit to Charleston, W. Va. The party had left Detroit between 4 and 5 a. m. and had taken its time on the trip to Charleston, near which city, Spring Hill, is located. Dr. Cann and his children, and the Baker boy, had been visiting in the Michigan city for several days. Dr. Cann had not fully recovered from a fractured left leg which he suffered several months ago in another automobile accident.

The Cussins & Fearn Co truck was enroute to Columbus from Portsmouth. Mr. Johnson, its driver, was taken to police headquarters after the wreck by Officer McCrady, where he was incarcerated of any blame by Prosecutor E. L. Crist after several witnesses had been questioned.

The dead boy's body will be shipped by the Albaugh Co. to Charleston on the N. & W. at 7:13 p. m. Tuesday when funeral arrangements will be made. He was born on Feb. 20, 1920 and besides his father and sister he survived by his mother, Mrs. S. Turley Cann.

Mr. Colburn and Mr. Conner, officials of the Cussins & Fearn Co. were in the city Tuesday investigating the accident.

FIGHT CARD WEDNESDAY

Eyler and Roberts to Throw Gloves in Feature of Everts Card Here.

When Luther Eyler and Jumping Johnny Roberts chamber through the ropes in the ring of the new outdoors arena here Wednesday evening, fans may prepare themselves to witness another struggle of youth against a veteran.

Roberts, of course, will enter as representative of Father Time. In fact, Roberts is one of the real vets of the mitt sport. His record shows he has been in the cauliflower business for nearly 13 years. In that long stretch, he has engaged in more than 300 scrambles.

A wide majority of them ended in his favor. But Roberts is most proud of the fact he has never yet been the victim of a kayo blow.

"I've been knocked down many times but I have never yet been put to sleep. If this young Eyler thinks he is as much enough to kayo me he is all wet," Roberts declared Tuesday.

"In fact, Eyler may find the tables reversed and be dropped in a heap before many rounds are over," the long gangling one added.

Both millers are training diligently for this scrap, as a natural rivalry exists between the pair due to their affiliations in Columbus. Roberts fights under the banner of the Southside A. C. while Eyler is under the management of the Queensburg club.

GROCCERS EDGE COCA COLA 9

Double Play With Sacks Full Kills Chances of Pop-men; Wallace Hits Homer.

An unassisted double play by second baseman Timmy Kline with the bases clogged and only one out in the ninth inning, won a game for the Independent Grocers Monday evening from the Coca Cola. The score was 7-6. Cy Baucher popped a fly to Kline and Wefler was doubled off the sack to end the game.

The Coca Colas took two-run lead in the first frame but the Grocers tallied five times in the third. The Cokes tied the count at 5-all when they scored three in the sixth. Ralph Wallace's long smash to left field went for the circuit the seventh when Pinky Wilson picked up the ball then dropped it, giving Wallace time to round the paths. The blow was a mighty one and the hitter was given credit for a home run, the first of the season. The Grocers scored one more in the eighth to make the count 7-5. With only one out in the first of the ninth, the Cokes had scored one when Baucher hit the ball to Kline that ended the ball game.

The Coca Colas outbit the Grocers 12 to 6 and also out erred them five to two.

This evening the Circleville Oils, leading the league, tangled with the Red Men.

Assembly Adjournment Date Is Not Yet Known

COLUMBUS, O., May 23.—When will the legislature adjourn? Some legislators frankly admit that their guess would not be any better than that of any other Ohioan. Others assume a sober countenance and hazard a guess.

The guesses vary from the latter part of June to the middle of July and even into August.

So far, however, Rep. J. Free Bittinger, (D) of Ashland, minority floor leader in the house, is the only legislator who has talked "turkey" on this subject.

"If the legislature does what it should for the people of Ohio in framing a taxation program, the members may be considered lucky if they are able to get back home in time to eat Thanksgiving Day," declared Bittinger.

There is some question as to whether the Ohio legislature can be "over-awed."

A number of the solons, however, insist that the legislature branch of the Buckeye state government is "over-lawed."

They point to the fact that there are more lawyers who are members of the legislature than there are representatives from any other profession or line of activity.

Of the 160 Ohio solons, 48 are attorneys. Of these, 11 are in the senate and 37 in the house.

Farmers take second place in the house, totaling 39. There are no farmers in the senate. Ranking next to the attorneys in the senate are the bankers of which there are only four.

In view of a growing sentiment among rural house members, including Democrats, for an income tax law, despite Governor George White's previously announced opposition to such a statute, a number of the Democratic house members from the cities are displaying a considerable concern.

Indications are that they will seek to have the minority members assemble in caucus where effort will be made to pledge the Democrats to vote against the income tax measures and to support the intangible tax bill.

If this plan fails to materialize, Democratic members from the cities are expected to endeavor to induce Republican house members, who come from the cities, to form a coalition and defeat the apparent desire of rural members, together with some of the city members, for an income tax law.

Senator John A. Lloyd, (R) of Portsmouth, has filed with the senate taxation committee, a petition, signed by 159 retail dealers in soft drinks in Scioto and Adams-co, protesting against the proposed state tax on soft drinks.

That there has been a "veritable orgy of tax-spending" in this country, "apart from the taxes created by the World war," is shown by the fact that the burden of taxation in the United States—federal, state and local—has grown to about $13,000,000,000 annually, together with a total of indebtedness of more than $30,000,000,000, according to Warren F. Perry, Columbus, executive secretary of the Ohio Manufacturers' association.

"Our tax bill today requires nearly $1 out of every $6 of the national income," Perry continued. "It means more than $500 yearly per family, in direct and indirect taxes. In 15 years, at the present rate of increase, 20 per cent of the national income will be taken for taxes. No nation has ever lived and prospered beyond that point of tax burden."

Perry is one of a number who have appeared before the members of the Ohio legislature and endorsed the pending intangible tax bill, but registered opposition to enactment of any income tax measure.

Referring to conditions which confronted the legislators in formulating Ohio's new taxation system, Perry said:

"Today, there are about 10,000,000 officeholders in the United States with an additional 21,000,000 persons performing work for, or selling material to, the public, a total of 31,000,000 persons who are living entirely off of the taxpayers. The country is full of individuals and organizations who are advocating expansions of governmental service, or activities, of one kind or another that would add still further to this immense array of tax beneficiaries and immeasurably increase the burden of the taxpayers."

"The taxes of Ohio have increased in 20 years eight times as fast as the population and the debt, at the same time, 10 times. Aggravated by the present business depression, conditions have now reached the point in Ohio beyond which the burden of taxation cannot go. In fact, it must be lightened on the present taxpayers."

"Greatly affected by the incubus of heavy taxes, real estate values have slumped heavily all over the state and tax duplicates will show a 15 to 20 per cent deflation under the present appraisal. So drastic has been the decrease that many properties can be bought today for one-half or one-third the tax value.

"Accompanied with this reduction in real estate values, there has been an unprecedented increase in delinquent taxes until they now aggregate nearly $90,000,000 in the state, a large part of which, at least, has been due to the inability of the taxpayer to bear the mounting increase in taxes. More than $30,000,000 of the amount is in Cuyahoga-co alone.

"The demands of state and local budget makes, however, have been generally for increased amounts of revenue."

RODE HIS OWN RELAY

WINSTED, Conn.—Dave Shade, a prize fighter, wanted to get a saddle horse from New York to his camp at Sandisfield, Mass., just over the state line from here, and went at it in style, riding the horse to Litchfield, 90 miles. Then he motored to the camp for a couple days' stay, returning and riding the horse the rest of the way, stopping here to visit friends. Shade came to town in full cowboy outfit, weighing in at 185 pounds with all equipment.

It has been estimated that there are more shiny noses than shiny shoes, which proves nothing.

Remember when it was a sort of 'fad' to pretend poverty? The richest man in town who rode in an old buggy long after his jess prosperous neighbors had cars—and when asked why, groaned, "Oh my! I can't afford it!"—is a thing of the past.

It's just as poor taste these days to moan about being poor as it is to boast of riches.

You can buy more with a dollar today than has been possible for years. And borrowing the money to buy is not foolish, but wise—a real economy—as time will prove.

Borrow the money at The City Loan and buy a few of the things you've always wanted, while they are cheap.

Don't Forget

We give you cash register receipts, when you buy shoes or hose of us, we then redeem them by giving you premiums very useful for them.

These premiums are such as the following - clocks - rugs - mirrors - buckets - cooking kettles - flash lights - roller skates - thermo bottles - thermo jugs - glass ware - family scales - pocket knives - watches - etc. See a display of these nice premiums in our east window during the next few days.

It usually takes from $10.00 to $40.00 in cash register receipts to get a premium. You pay no more for your shoes than if we did not give the premiums. This is a gift pure and simple that we enjoy giving to our patrons.

We still maintain that it pays to buy all leather quality footwear. We will not sell shoes that we cannot guarantee to be all leather.

100 Athletes To Gather For I. C. 4-A Meet

By TED SMITS
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK.—History, always given to tiresome repetitions has prepared its best carbon paper for the intercollegiate track and field championships at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, May 29 and 30, and again a leaf will be snatched from the past and made into the glorious present unless a cinder revolution takes place in the few days that remain.

All this is by way of saying that Southern California will again dominate the I.C.A.A.A. tests of speed and skill, with no one to say "Nay," unless perhaps, it is the University of Pennsylvania.

Thirty-six other collegiate institutions will be there, with some 600 athletes, but if the form sheets prevail—and in track they have a way of doing exactly that—it will be another Trojan parade. Last year Dean Cromwell's boys scored 44 1-4 points against 26 1-4 for Stanford, with Harvard's 23 1-2 in third place representing the best that the east could do.

Since thirty-nine of these two score and odd points are still in school in the forms of brawny Southern California athletes there seems nothing for the proud east to do except resign to fate. And this, of course, doesn't even take into account what new marvels may have sprouted under the combination of California sunlight and Coach Cromwell's crafty hand.

Southern California served its notice on the world that the 1931 I.C.A.A.A. championships was as good as won a few days ago by winning the annual California intercollegiate track and field meet with 93 points against Stanford's 49, and California's humble 19.

Harvard, the only eastern team to shine last year, appears to have lost much of its strength this year, and so it will probably be Pennsylvania and Pennsylvania alone that will attempt to halt the far western menace. This winter it almost seemed as if Coach Lawson Robertson has assembled enough talent to do exactly that. But with the spring the Pennsylvania track team, however talented it may be, has paled into almost insignificance in comparison with the Trojans.

There are other forces to be reckoned with, of course. Should the University of Michigan hurl its strength into the I.C.A.A.A. meet this powerful Big Ten outfit may cause a splitting of the points that might embarrass the Trojans. But Michigan's strength appears to be in events in which Coach Bromwell has not been counting very heavily, anyway.

Then there are such splendid individual performers as Gene McCluskey, the Fordham distance ace, Clark Chamberlain, Michigan State's threat in the longer runs, Ben Eastman, Stanford's astounding quarter-mile, and others, all of whose individual victories, however, are expected to have little influence on the point

Trust the crowd to choose the Best.

TEE TONIC for SPRING GOLFERS by GENE SARAZEN

Spring Fever and Its Dangers

Happy days are here again (but don't start singing too soon). For all sorts of days (and the average golfer should note this) are here—some of joy and some of sorrow, of hope and of despair; days of slicing and of hooking, of shanking and of topping. Once more throughout the nation golfers again are abroad in the land. Digging days are right with us!

The exuberant golfer drags out of closet or attic the bag of golf clubs laid away with a sigh last Autumn. He is happy once more. The fairways beckon, he responds to their bidding with great play of zest and zeal. It would be better for him did he look upon the budding season with more composure. The very eagerness that has him in a frenzy of expectation may ruin his whole season. Therefore, I sound a warning.

Golf must be played complacently, without hurry, without strain. If a player is bubbling over with enthusiasm he cannot very well adopt that quiet poise which is as much a part of the golf-equipment as his set of irons. To play well you must be relaxed and, of course, you can't be relaxed if you are eager, excited or hurried.

HEADS BOB; EYES WANDER
For many players, Springtime is a period of discouragement. Those who during the Winter lay-off promised themselves that they would adopt and abide by certain resolutions discover to their dismay that they are not doing so at all.

For example, they promised themselves to keep their heads still but their heads bob about like corks on a river; the eyes they were going to keep on the ball total as far as the Trojans are concerned.

If any one individual stands out at the meet, it is expected to be the large and potent Barney Berlinger of Pennsylvania, who will try his hand at about all of the field events, and should score well in his private, little decathlon.

As for the event that will draw the hoarsest, fiercest yell, that has been decided ahead of time, and, as has often been the case in the past, it is the hundred yard dash. Time was when "ten-flat" men were objects of veneration. But of Philadelphia three men will go to their marks to whom "ten-flat" would be a slow walk. They are Wykoff of Southern California, who has been credited with the unbelievable performance of .09 2-5, Tolan of Michigan, the accepted world's record holder at .09 5, and Dyer of Stanford, who has been clocked in .09 3-5.

Last Night's Fights

Charley Retzlaff, Duluth, knocked out Timmy Diebolt, Cleveland;

(1) Hymie Wiseman and Midget Mike O'Dowd drew (6).

At La Salle—Young Geno, La Salle lightweight, defeated Georgie Nate, South Bend. (10)

At New York—Joey Costa, New Jersey featherweight, defeated Johnny McMullan, Scotland. (10)

Conrad Conde, New York bantamweight, defeated Jimmy Carlo, New York (6).

At Pittsburgh—Tommy Freeman, Cleveland welterweight, defeated Buck McTiernan, Swissvale, Pa. (10).

IRISHMAN TO FACE ITALIAN

Jimmy McLarnin to Change Style Against Billy Petrolle In Fight.

By Less Conklin

ORANBURG, N. Y., May 29.—Smiling Jimmy McLarnin, whose stung of spectacular ring victories was snapped last November when Billy Petrolle handed the Van-couver Irishman the worst drubbing of his career, is going to change his style somewhat in his important return bout with the Fargo, N. D. Italian at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Petrolle confounded the "Irish knockout king" in their first meeting by coming in with head lowered and elbows high and carrying the fight all the way. When McLarnin jumped away, Billy nailed him with long left hooks.

"I think I had better fight him differently this time," observed James this morning with his quantity precise enunciation as he finished his training with light exercises. "I will keep my head down more and in closer. Last time I made the mistake of jumping back and was hit by those long lefts. For three rounds of the fight, I was quite dazed."

A change in Jimmy's style was evident as he went through his last session with the big gloves for the benefit of sports writers at Gus Wilson's sylvan retreat here. He did more of the weaving and sidestepping that marked his earlier ring days when he was noted for his masterful boxing ability rather than his devastating punch.

Jimmy declares that his shelling-out at the hands of Petrolle last November will not act as a mental hazard to him tomorrow night.

The Nature Editor was out going recently and believes some of the birdies made by his opponent were mythological, like the roc.

Farm families produce almost half of the food they use, according to a summary of 58 farm household accounts recently made by the department of home economics at the state university.

CONSERVATION NEWS of OHIO STATE

August 31, to September 5. Projects on which they have been working under the direction of the Extension Department of the Ohio State University, will be shown.

Ashland-co women will demonstrate the saving effected by use of flour, salt, and other sacks, which have been dyed, and tastefully arranged into different household purposes. Those of Stark-co will advertise thrift by use of home prepared breakfast foods from home grown cereals. Clinton-co women have transfigured Trumbull-co will tell Fair visitors how to cut the budget by use of home gardening, canning and storing the products raised. Montgomery-co women will picture a model camp for women. Wood-co will show the value of a testing project. Through this plan new inventions and devices are "loaned" by the manufacturers, to be tried out by the circle of women before buying.

"The 'Sport of Kings' is popular. Proof is shown by the summary of early closing events for the Ohio State Fair. In seven stake races a total of 316 horses entered. The 20 trot, drew 57; the 13 pace, 21; 2-year-old trot, owned in Ohio when named and raced, 56; 2-year pace, 40; 20 pace, 58; 3-year trot, the Governor's stake, for horses owned in Ohio when named and raced, 54; 3-year pace, 35.

The Ohio State Fair, August 31, the four regional shows fostered by the American Jersey Cattle club. For this purpose the club has contributed $250 to be matched by the State Fair. States comprising the eastern region are New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, Ohio, West Virginia, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine. Special medals and ribbons will be awarded by the American Jersey club. Judging day will be Thursday, J. W. Ridgway, Ft. Worth, Texas, will tie the ribbons. The Ohio Jersey Cattle club has contributed $375 to the awards.

W. W. Ellenwood, chief, division of plant industry, Ohio Department of Agriculture, is busy making plans for the wheat field insect survey to be made by his division. This survey will be made in cooperation with Professor J. S. Bauser, chief entomologist for the Ohio Experiment Station and Prof. T. H. Parks, of the Extension Service Department of Ohio State University.

Ohio fields will be inspected shortly before harvest time. Results will enable the department to make recommendations to farmers for fall planting in order to avoid the ravages of the Hessian fly. Results of this survey may be obtained by addressing I. S. Guthery, director of Agriculture, division of plant industry, Columbus.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS JOIN JUNIOR FAIR
Ohio Camp Fire Girls have accepted the invitation of director I. S. Guthery to take part in this year's Ohio State Junior Fair, August 31 to September 5.

The Camp Fire Girls is a big nation-wide organization. One million one hundred thirty thousand girls. Ohio ranks at the top in membership.

Camp Fire is a program of activities for adolescent girls. It includes all the natural interests of girls and proceeds on the assumption that, through a program of fun and happiness, girls may achieve a beautiful and useful womanhood.

The organization was established in 1911. A group of educators saw the need of a program to do for girls what the Boy Scout program was doing for boys. The system of honors, the Watchwork, Wobelo, and many other vital parts of the program were taken from the program of Camp Wobelo on Lake Sebago, Connecticut, where Dr. and Mrs. Luther Gulick took their daughters, and their daughters' friends, for the summer vacation.

There are seven crafts of Camp Fire. Camping and appreciation of the out-of-doors have always been emphasized. With them have come home craft, creating beautiful things with ones hands, keeping healthy bodies, practicing sound business principals and serving ones fellow citizens. In short, Camp Fire Girls follow the seven points of the Camp Fire law; seek beauty; give service; pursue knowledge; be trustworthy; hold on to health; glorify work and be happy.

Churches, schools and communities have endorsed Camp Fire as an adequate and beautiful program for the fun and education of girls. For the girl, Camp Fire is a good time, lots of fun at camp, in town, at school or at home. From the homeliest tasks of making beds and washing dishes to the never-to-be-forgotten nights under the stars, Camp Fire is an adventure. A vision of dreams and ideals, but also means of realizing those ideals and making those dreams come true.

Camp Fire exhibits to be made at the State Junior Fair will include, Indian and foreign displays, cooking, baking, canning sewing, basketry, leather work, nature studies and many other classes portraying the every day work of these girls.

PARROT EARNS MEDAL
SAN DIEGO, Cal.—Because an electus pectoralis species of parrot was successfully hatched and raised at a zoo here, an avicultural medal was presented the institution. The medal was given in view of the fact that the electus pectoralis parrot was the first to be hatched successfully in captivity in the United States. Next?

BASEBALL FIELD FOR GIRLS
HARTFORD, Conn.—A baseball field devoted exclusively to the use of girls is projected here. So many young women have sought a playing field whereon they may play ball without interference from boys that the park board is considering establishing a place for them. Alderman Robert F. Claffey is urging the project.

A NEW "RAINBOW" COLUMBUS, IND.—The methods were employed by a boy in Columbus to escape a war. Whenever a person customer refused to purchase a toy water gun which was dirty water upon the display, the lad went into action. A policeman saw the prospect. A policeman saw youth and he was taken to Chief Lloyd Nickerson, who released him after a warning.

About 1,500 Ohio farmers have received loans amounting to $200,000 from the drought relief fund of the federal government. The money will be used for purchasing seed and fertilizer.

DEAN OF WOMEN TELLS OF GIRLS

BOSTON.—"Too many students are carried away by the side show of college life and fail to estimate true value until they find themselves outside the college door," according to Dean Lucy Jenkins Franklin, dean of women of Boston University, and director of one of the six courses for deans which are given in universities in this country.

Explaining the value of these courses Dean Franklin declared their fundamental purpose is to enable the dean to "set the student on the right path before it is too late."

"Every modern girl should be able to solve her own problems," she said, "and our classes teach this method of treating problems. There are a few simple rules essential in the new method. First, it is the dean's business to find out what help the girl wants and needs. Secondly, she must keep everything confidential. Last and most important, she should tactfully lead the girl to the solution of her own problem."

New cereal Helps school grades

One day, out of every 365, has been designated as Memorial Day the day that is set apart to do homage to our departed soldier boys. Next Saturday is that day and, in keeping with solemnity of the day, this store, along with practically all other business houses in the city, will remain closed all day and evening. However, to give the public an opportunity to do their buying (and pay on their accounts) these stores will remain open on Friday evening. With the business houses closed, every one should turn out and remember the soldier dead. And with the appearance of our new high school band, under the direction of that very able leader, Prof. Zaenglein, every one should turn out and do their bit in the ceremonies of the day.

It wouldn't be very nice for us to tell you what family owns this very polite young man. At the dinner table, he said "Pass the butter." His mother reprovingly asked, "If what?" The son replied, "If you can reach it." Now, do you blame us for not naming the family?

In April, 1917, a customer, who now lives on E. Mound St., opened an account with us. And since that time, this family has been a constant customer of ours. They have been buying goods from us almost as long as we have had the store. Saturday night, the mother of this family, finding that she needed a new living room rug, came in and selected one from our stock. Evidently this family has received satisfaction from us. And, let us say, we've enjoyed doing business with them and hope to continue selling them their requirements.

A lady from near Williamsport told us that she burns about 10 gallons of kerosene weekly for heat for cooking runs about $1 each week. We believe that she could do her work with PYROFAX GAS at about the same cost, and without smoke, odor, or bother.
